The raft is ready to launch. Put the remaining preparations in the order that matters to you.

Your first priority is water and provisions. This staged plan follows your order.